

Topics that transform information into intelligence

Contify's AI-enabled market and competitive intelligence platform leverages contextual machine learning algorithms and human curation to structure data from over 500,000 sources into standardised business topics.

Start your seven-day free trial

Companies

Business expansion

A company expanding operations in existing or new markets by augmenting sales networks, production/servicing capacities.

Operational challenges

Issues related to operations and workforce — strikes, supply chain disruption, production halt, inventory issues, defects/recalls.

Partnerships & alliances

Company entering into JVs, partnerships, alliances, affiliations, distribution and franchise/licensing agreements.

M&A activities

A company selling or buying equity stake in part or in full; also includes activities during the run-up to any such transaction.

Demerger/spin off

Stories related to a company demerging one or more of its business lines to into an independent corporate entity.

Corporate restructuring

A company altering the way the corporate entity, its subsidiaries, or its various business units are structured and held.

Negative news

Events with a negative outlook on the company, including personnel issues, violation of laws, litigation, negative PR.

Regulatory and legal

Stories related to the intervention of government/regulatory bodies to aide, monitor or penalise a company.

New offerings

Stories related to introduction or announcement new products or services, educational courses, departments within a company.

Procurement and sales

A company getting awarded a contract/order from another company to supply it a particular set of goods/services.

Awards & recognitions

Stories related to a company winning an award or recognition for any aspect of conducting its business operations.

Events

Stories related to conferences, events, seminars, summits; also includes stories on a companies' participation at an event.

Financial

Capital investment

Stories related to a company's investing money into the business for long term under the capital expenses head.

Capital refinancing

A company rearranging their cash, debt, equity capital in order to retire and replace high-cost funds with the low-cost ones.

Financial performance

Stories related to a company announcing its financial results, or making other announcements related to results.

Funding activities

A company's plan to raise money via any conventional or unconventional methods to infuse funds into the business.

Bankruptcy

A company declaring insolvency or bankruptcy; also includes all developments in the run-up to the filing, and follow-up events.

Asset buy/sale

A company buying or selling assets, whether tangible or non-tangible, whole or part of investment portfolio, receivables.

Cost cutting

Company reducing expenses and improving profitability through layoffs, pay cuts, and facilities/operations shut down.

Management changes

Stories related to a person joining at, being promoted to, leaving from a management position or board of directors.

Hirings

Stories related to a company's plan to hire or recruit employees; includes both, quantitative and non-quantitative information.

People

Advanced mfg

Includes 3D/4D printing, industry 4.0 – the capability to create a physical object from digitally encoded designs.

Artificial intelligence

Advanced analysis and logic-based techniques through ML to interpret events, support and automate decisions.

Emerging tech

AR/VR

Includes real-time use of information in form of graphics, audio, etc. integrated with real-world objects.

Big data/analytics

Big data and analytics includes the process of examining large and varied data sets to uncover information and insights.

Blockchain

A system of cryptographically signed, irrevocable transactional records maintained across computers in a P2P network.

Cybersecurity

Cybersecurity is the combination of people, policies, and technologies employed to protect the cyber assets.

IoT

The Internet of Things is a network of physical objects that transmit their internal states to the external environment.

Robotics

Includes advanced technologies that can be programmed to perform a tasks that earlier required human intervention.

Life sciences

Clinical trials

Any research study that prospectively assigns human participants to one or more health-related interventions.

